Board's Checkers Report 1215 Signers On All 3 Redistricting Petitions, To Recount Voters

Sylvester Moran told the Board of Supervisors Monday that he and Alvin Genin had found 1215 qualified signers on the three redistricting petitions.

Moran and Genin were chosen by the board to check both the petitions and the number of qualified voters in Hancock County.

This would indicate that the petitions contain enough signatures to warrant an election on re-districting.

Clerk A. C. Mitchell previously certified that there are 4,660 qualified electors in the county. Since 25 per cent are required for the election, the petitioners would need 1,165. They have, according to the board's checkers, 50 more than needed.

However, two other factors come into the picture.

1. The board has secured some affidavits taking names off the petition. These must be checked, too.

2. Moran and Genin will make their own check of the total qualified voters, rather than accept Mitchell's figure. Moran stated there were 1469 names on the petitions, which were presented on October 11, 19 and 20.

Giving a breakdown of each petition Moran said, "On October 11 petition there were 1032 signers of which 130 were not qualified; on the October 19 petition, there were 158 signers of which 26 were not qualified, and on October 20 petition there were 279 signers, of which 48 were not qualified.

David McDonald, speaking on behalf of the petitioners, asked Moran "how much longer will it take you to finish the checking?"

Moran answered that he could not give a definite time but he would be glad to report back. Friday to present the work that has been done concerning the number of qualified electors in the county.

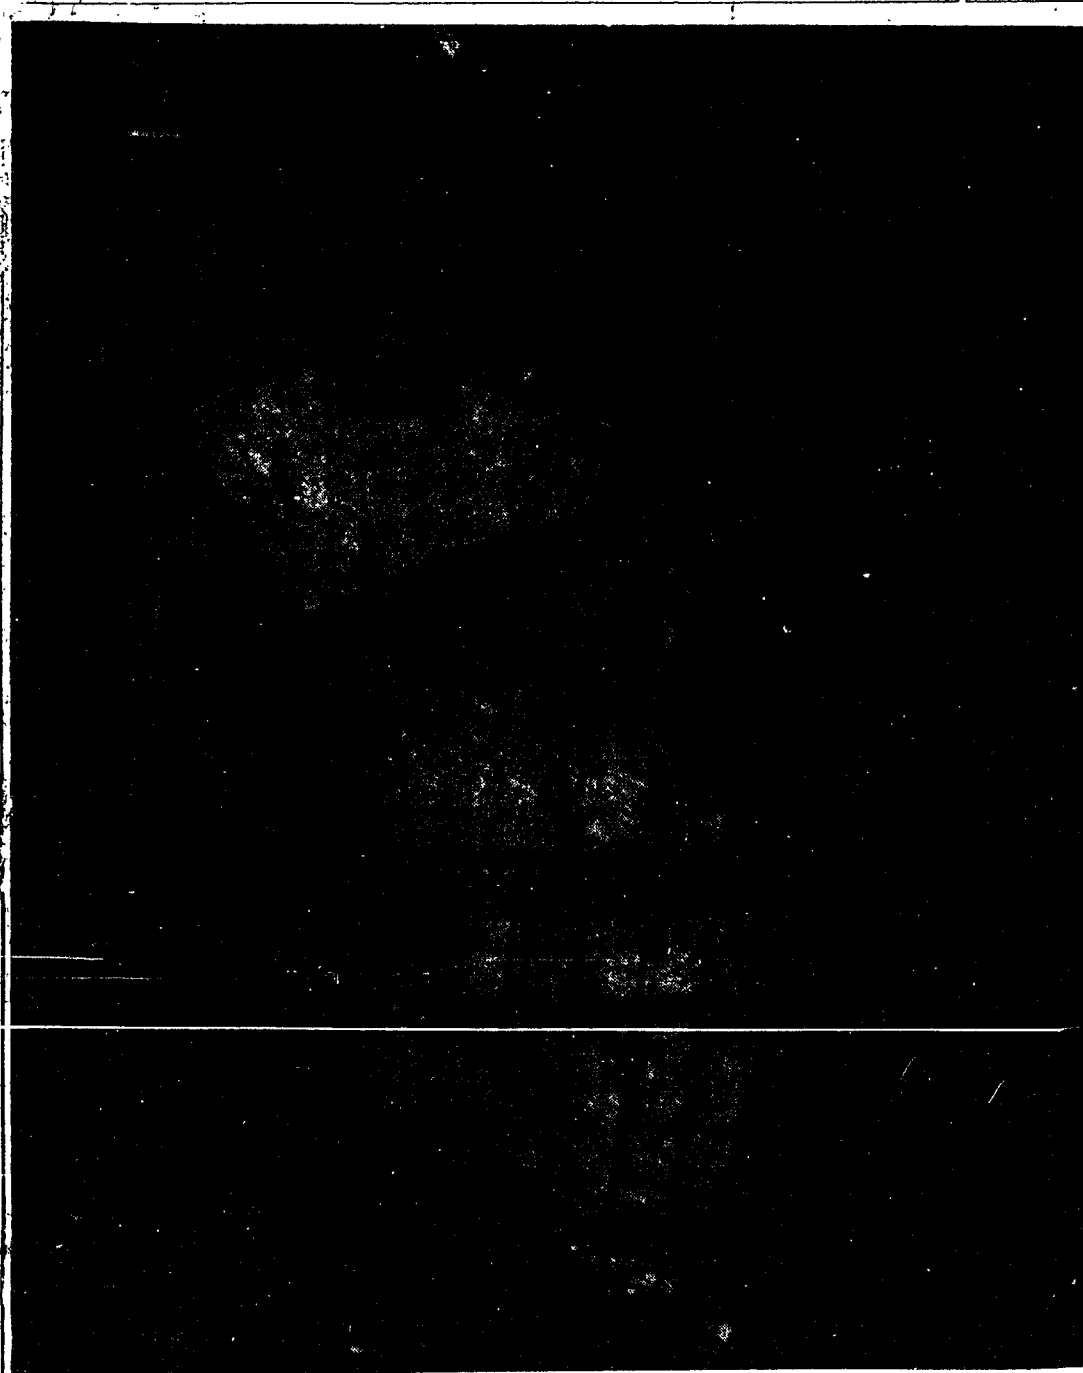

But Jack Lott, supervisor of Jean 2, suggested that the board meet Monday because of Thanksgiving being Thursday. This was approved by both the board and the petitioners. McDonald added, that regardless of the number of voters that are found to be qualified the petitioners would be able to offer proof showing that some of these are not.

Legion To Give Christmas Party For Children

A drive for funds to provide a Christmas Tree and Free Movies Party for the children of Hancock County has been launched, according to a statement today by Sidney L. Bourgeois, Commander of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139. Members named to handle the project for the Legion are: Co-Chairman Sidney L. Bourgeois and Thomas L. Bressler. Other members of the committee are E. J. Arceneaux, A. J. Becker, J. H. Benvenutti, Jr., Laurent Dickson, R. J. Elliott, F. E. Fayard, Sr., G. V. Price, Sr., and J. D. Rutherford, Jr.

Frank Taconi, Chairman of the Legion's Adult Entertainment Committee, announced that all funds derived from all Adult Entertainment Parties held from now until Christmas would be used to help finance the big Legion Christmas Party. He said these parties would be held every Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. and every Sunday at 2:00 p. m. at the Legion Home. Special cash and turkey prizes will be awarded to guests attending.

This party being sponsored by our Post is not restricted but we feel that many of those children will receive their only Christmas gift there. Commander Bourgeois stated, "By sponsoring this open party, no needy child should feel embarrassed by attending along with the other boys and girls," he added. "We feel this is a tremendous project and most worthy and are earnestly appealing to the public to support it." Co-Chairman Taconi and members of the committee will be working on the project.

Local On-The-Spotters View Biloxi Crash Before And After

After the football game last week when the fans were traveling back to Bay St. Louis over Highway 90, a plane buzzed low over the heads of the cars. It kept circling the town of Biloxi.

Two Bay St. Louis men were driving past the Buena Vista Hotel when some strange noise attracted their attention.

Frank Trapani owner of the Knock-Knock Club and Horatio Farve, manager of the A & G Theater, looked up and they saw the huge, bird like machine flying close to the ground in an uneasy fashion.

Trapani said, "I can't explain exactly what caused us to look and see what was going over our heads. But we did and saw this plane flying about 300 feet over the street."

"A couple of minutes later we heard on the radio that the plane had crashed into the Gulf."

Farve said "after I noticed the plane I opened the door of the car to see if the plane was going to crash. It was a two engine airplane but it sounded as if only one motor was running."

"The plane was heading in the opposite direction and one of its wings dipped. It just missed the lighthouse, as it swung over the beach road. When the football team and a few people had waited at the ball park reached this point on the trip back home, they were stopped."

The plane had crashed and the search for survivors began. After the crowds had left and it seemed that nothing would be found, a crash boat from the Coast Guard noticed parts of the plane in the water about 400 yards out.

Leonard Benvenutti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Benvenutti of Toule Street, was on the beach when the wreckage was spotted.

He stated that a plane was dropping flares and after the boats had searched for an hour part of the plane was spotted. "We could not see it from the end of the Buena Vista pier. One of the boats came in and told all of us standing there that it had found parts of the plane but had not seen any survivors."

"Someone told me that it sounded like the plane had run out of gas, and that when it hit the water, the wing hit first and the aircraft made a somersault."

Keesler authorities would not issue a statement on the plane. They only said that it was an "unauthorized flight."

One Seriously Hurt In Wreck At Clermont

Mrs. Birch Bankston of Clermont Harbor today told of her experience Friday when she saw the wreck which seriously injured one.

She said, "I went to the door to answer the bell, when I heard a crash. I immediately walked on my porch to see what had happened."

"When I got there I saw an automobile flying in the air and a figure going in the opposite direction."

She continued, "A couple of us went down there and found Burt Johnson and Kenneth Williams. Burt was on a sand bar. He was bleeding very badly and in a semi-conscious state. The Williams boy was unconscious."

"Suitcases and other articles were thrown all over the street. From the way we found Burt, it was evidently him that I saw flying from the car. He was thrown a good distance. The car turned over and was facing the opposite direction in which they were traveling."

Johnson and Williams were taken to the local hospital from where Johnson was transferred to the Veterans Hospital in Biloxi.

Williams has been released and is resting at home.

A member of the Johnson family said, "Burt is doing better. He suffered a broken leg, a broken shoulder and a broken jaw bone. His hip was fractured and all of his upper teeth were knocked out. The only cut on his body was under his chin."

It was reported that Johnson never lost consciousness. He was able to recognize people Saturday, and has been proclaimed out of danger according to the doctors.

He cannot walk but had been able to sit up.

His sister Norma said, "The other day daddy was talking to him about the wreck. At first Burt could not remember any thing. But after a while he wrote on a piece of paper that he thinks he remembers being thrown out of the car through the windshield."

The exact time of the accident was recorded on his watch which was broken at four minutes before five.

Burt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Johnson of Second Street and Kenneth Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams of Clermont Harbor.

Another car was involved in the wreck but the driver, a resident of New Orleans was not injured.

FOUR COMMUNITIES GET PHONE SERVICE IN GALA CEREMONY

Telephone service was restored to Logtown, Pearlington, Napoleon and Gainesville in a colorful ceremony at Logtown.

These communities had been without service ever since a private company, operated by A. E. Marshall, closed last year.

But Southern Bell came to the rescue at a cost of $50,000 to install a dial switching unit and 130 individual telephones. The phones on the exchange dial one another and also into the Bay St. Louis exchange.

Four school children threw the switch which launched the service. They are Sadie Spence of Logtown, Bertie Dawsey of Gainesville, Ronnie Brelaud of Napoleon and Wayne Giveans of Pearlington.

Mr. Marshall made the first long distance call, speaking to a telephone company vice-president in Atlanta.

General Chairman T. C. Williams gave the opening remarks.

Lamar Otis was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Fr. Raphael Toner gave the invocation. C. W. Fountain gave the welcome address, and John Scaffide gave the response.

This was followed by remarks by Walter Gex, chairman of the Mississippi State Seafood Commission; J. C. Dabney, Southern Bell's group manager, H. H. Shattuck, manager of Coast Electric Power Association; Alfred Donnaud, representing Pearlington, Joe Jones representing Gainesville; Roger E. Chestnut, representing Napoleon, and J. F. Carter, representing Logtown.

Ike Sanford, Mississippi Public Service Commission member from Collins and J. M. Phillips, Mississippi Manager for Phone company, also spoke.

A dinner followed the program at the St. Joseph's Community Hall in Pearlington.

Hubbard was the only supervisor present who voted against the purchasing of the Brignac land. He favored the Robert Genin-Tom Noto property on Carroll Avenue, which was offered for $16,400.

But the other members of the board decided that the Brignac property was twice as large and had better drainage.

"After it is signed," he said, "the next step is for the architects to survey the land."

Bay High Drops Last Game To Picayune 47-12; S. S. C. Defeats Notre Dame In Last Second

Donald Cole Scores Both Touchdowns; Returns Kickoff 92 Yards For One TD.

The Bay High football team came upon the realization that the Tide is just as rough in Picayune as it is on the Gulf Coast.

In fact the Tigers ran into a squall last Friday when Picayune High defeated them 47-12.

The first quarter was a scoreless tie, with Bay High doing most of the running. But then the going got rough. Picayune ran and passed for three touchdowns in the second period. Bay High's offense was unable to move.

After the half and fiery pep talk by Coach Lance Lumpkin the Tigers came to life. Bay High shifted into a single wing and drove very rapidly.

Donald Cole capped the first march with a 20 yard end run for the touchdown. But Picayune bounced back and matched that score.

Cole, a thorn in Picayune's side all night, took the kickoff on his own eight yard line and ate up the distance between himself and the goal line.

He twisted, turned and sprinted the 92 yards. Alams missed his second try for the extra point.

Picayune would not be outscored in any quarter. It went on the prowl again and added another seven points to its already high score.

Tommy Holden broke in the clear for Bay High and dashed 40 yards for a touchdown. But the play was called back for a holding penalty.

The third quarter ended. Early in the fourth Cole passed to Seller for another touchdown, but as before it was nullified by a penalty on the play.

Picayune scored once more and the game ended.

Coach Lance Lumpkin, who ended his first year as head mentor at Bay High with the Picayune game said, "My boys are inexperienced and they got rattled last week. We held them in the first quarter and stayed in their territory most of the time but after that we fell apart."

"Picayune has a well balanced and experienced ball club. We made a lot of mistakes and Picayune is a team that capitalizes on mistakes. When you give that team an opportunity it will score on you every time."

Coach Lumpkin continued, "As far as the overall football season is concerned I think the kids played good ball, considering the opposition we met. We played some high calibre teams. I think we will have a good team next year even though we lose several key men from this year's team. I will hold a spring training practice session in February and expect to have a good turnout."

Bay High dropped two opponents from the schedule of this year. Nichols of New Orleans had been replaced by Lumberton and O. L. V. of Pascagoula has been replaced by Leakee. Both of these teams are DeSoto Conference members and by playing them we will be eligible for the conference championship.

Kiln High Teams Keep Record Perfect

Kiln High basketball teams continued to give warning to all future opponents as both the boys and girls defeated a strong Sacred Heart of Hattiesburg cage teams.

The boys led by Harry Ladner and Russell Mitchell, who made a total of 30 points defeated their opposition, 72-64.

The girls won 40-20, with Betty Joyce Necaise taking scoring honors for the fourth consecutive game.

She tallied 20 points.

Kiln met St. Joseph of Pass Christian last night in its own gym.

Coach L. C. Ladner said that he was very pleased with the way his team played in Hattiesburg last Friday.

He added, "Sacred Heart had a good team. All of its players were good goal shooters but we had enough guns to beat them."

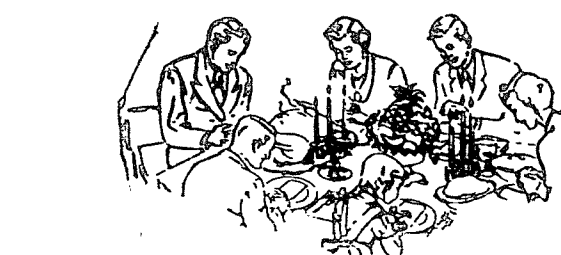

Ladner stated that he believed his team would be victorious in the St. Joseph game having beat that team twice since the beginning of the season.

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

This column would like to offer its sincere congratulations to the big, husky soft spoken and mild mannered coach at Bay High, Lance Lumpkin, for a job well done.

He deserves applause for his work with the Bay High team this year.

Although he didn't have a winning season we feel that he did a fine job and one that should be commended.

In the early part of the season Lance's boys lost a couple of games that should have been added to the victory column.

But these defeats have to be chalked up to the lack of experience and to the higher caliber of teams the Tigers faced.

Lumpkin is a man with a zest for winning. Throughout his 14 year career he has proved this fact.

When his club loses he feels it more than anyone. Many a time during this year he was near tears when the whistle blew ending the game and Bay High was on the short end of the score.

This was not because the loss hurt his prestige. It was because his boys had tried their hardest but could not match the opponents' strength.

As was pointed out earlier, this was his first year. Don't sell him short. He will return next year with a better team.

He will instill in the boys a feeling of pride and zeal. He will show them that it is a privilege to become a member of the Bay High football team. He will raise the eagerness of all concerned.

He has and will continue to promote the devotion of the players to training. A phase of the game that has to be followed strictly.

Lumpkin's vigor and hustle will spread. Football at Bay High will become a pleasure—not a drudgery.

Yes, Coach Lance Lumpkin, a winner, will accomplish all of these things.

They will not come easy and certainly they will not come in one year and even two. But the sports fans of this community and county must bear with him and help him in every way possible.

Talk football to your son. After all, football is part of American life. It is an activity that teaches as much as algebra, English or any other subject on the curriculum.

Lumpkin's first and foremost interest is for the physical well-this on many occasions when he spurned the ideas of an injured boy who wanted to re-enter the game.

Lance Lumpkin will succeed where others have failed. He will have a champion at Bay High.

HELPFUL HINT: Aside from consideration of sportsmanship don't shoot at ducks in the water, because they present a smaller target. The head and neck may be untouched by the charge while the pellets may have only crippling effect against the wings and sides. Cripples are frequently lost.

Chester Bourgeois and his father reported they caught some large specks this week. Some of them weighed over 4 pounds.

Dick Proctor, an ardent fisherman of Clermont Harbor enjoyed a nice fishing trip up Pearl River Sunday, he caught a few green trout, but said that the fish would not cooperate very much.

Another new addition to the fishermen's pleasure is Givens fishing camp on Pearl River at Pearlinton. Givens camp has skiffs for rent and usually has live bait when available.

Dr. W. S. Spiers of Bogalusa, a former resident of the Bay has made plans for a deer hunt in Louisiana leaving from Bayou Homa with a party of friends this weekend. Doc used to hunt with local friends years ago. The deer season opened in Louisiana Monday.

Bobby Fayard and Lucas Pechou and J. D. Horlock, Jr., were out after ducks last week, don't think they did so hot.

Wade Creekmore, Director of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, reminded deer hunters today that all hunters must have a deer tag, regardless of whether they are exempt from purchasing a license or not. The tags are free of charge.

Persons 65 years of age or over, under 16 years of age, females and persons hunting on their own land are not required to have a license, but the Commission's regulation of April 13, 1954 requires anyone killing a deer to affix the official deer tag to the carcass immediately. This tag ordinarily is issued as part of the hunting license, but persons who are not required to have a license may obtain the deer tag by writing to the Game and Fish Commission, Box 451, Jackson, for a deer tag application blank.

Henry Carver claims he made his first fishing trip in about five years Sunday. He caught some nice speckles.

Over the week end speckles were caught up Jordan River and Bayou Caddy. There were boats just everywhere - all getting their share of the big ones.

The old standbys Bob Genin, Jerome Carver and Robert Genin, Jr., probably made the best batch over the weekend they caught 35 speckles up Jordan River.

Kent Sellier New Newman Club President

Kent Sellier is serving as president of the Junior Newman Club, which was organized in 1953 here.

The club, which has approximately 40 members, has as its other officers Robert Bing, Jerry Bienvu and James Favre. Meetings are held at the K. C. Hall.

Schexnayder Scores with 21 Remaining On The Scoreboard

St. Stanislaus Rockchaws fought back late in the fourth quarter to gain a hard earned 12-6 victory over the fired up Notre Dame Rebels, in Biloxi last Friday.

Until that point Stanislaus was as flat as the new look created this year by Christian Dior. It couldn't get started. Notre Dame, a heavy underdog, was beating the Rocks to the punch. A smooth passing attack by the Rebels guided by quarterback Sicol, who looked like a pocket size edition of Ralph Guglielmi, the master field general of Notre Dame University football team, kept Stanislaus on the defense.

But with four minutes to go in the game, the Rockchaws drove from their own 20 on a sustained drive to score the winning touchdown. Fullback Wodde Santa Cruz led this march with some fine running. It was on this march that Stanislaus chalked up its initial first down of the contest. It had been outplayed by a eager bunch of Biloxians, seeking an upset win.

Stanislaus scored first, while Notre Dame set up an eight man line with one linebacker and two secondary line of scrimmage. Quarterback Sichel threw a Schexnayder ran a pass helped by field blockers score. Wodde led the Rebels to a 21-6 victory. From the quarter Schexnayder as the line in the den. Notre Dame the second quarter. (Continued)

Quite a Display.

The governor of Mississippi made quite a display of himself last week in battling for his silly public school bill.

Almost every intelligent force in Mississippi is against the matter how the people might feel about segregation.

...the why:

The amendment, to be voted on in December, gives the state right to kill the public schools and make them private schools.

There are no strings attached.

The state can do this anytime it wants, if the amendment passes.

It can sell schools to anyone it chooses.

It could, under this amendment, pull some of the darndest shenanigans in history - and the people wouldn't have a single comeback.

Furthermore, murdering the public school system goes pretty deep.

It means, for example, no more federal aid. And Mississippi schools are poor enough with federal aid. You can imagine how they'll be without federal aid.

Furthermore, it means no more free lunches for the students.

Still there are other complications.

The state could not legally run free school busses to these "private" schools. The state could not decide how these "private" schools are run, or what is done with the tuition money.

The state can give each child tuition money, but if someone decides to spend the money for something new then that's one kid who just won't go to school.

In other words, the amendment is simply a bad and foolish bill - a grandstand bill which will open the door for all sorts of trouble.

The children of Mississippi will suffer.

The bill has been heavily criticized - so much so that the esteemed governor got mad.

He got mad in front of newspaper reporters. And then he got madder when the reporters quoted him in their papers.

Now that's a funny thing about some politicians. They seem to think they have a right to decide what goes into the papers.

They do not have that right.

The reporters are going to print what they hear and see, and no governor or any other politician is going to keep anything out of an honest newspaper.

If Joe Doaks gets in trouble and goes to jail his name goes into the newspaper. The governor is no better than anyone else.

If he gets into trouble, he's going into the newspapers too.

The state does not need politicians yelling at newspapers.

The state needs, instead, politicians passing some intelligent bills.

non Ladner and Edgar Peterson.

County Agent Notes

by HOWARD SIMMONS

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS
It is important that farmers cooperate fully with the Agricultural Census takers. The information is highly useful in determining market needs, farm income averages and any needed expansion in production.

Remember this. All information given a census taker is held in strict confidence. Federal law forbids giving this information to any person other than a sworn census employee. It cannot be used for investigation, taxation or regulation.

The information gathered in the farm census is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages and percentages.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT

Winter management is now necessary in poultry production. Make sure that your poultry houses are closed during cold nights and days. Keep the houses dry and free from drafts. However, enough ventilation is needed to keep the air in the houses dry. When moisture begins to form on the rafters and right under the roof, more ventilation is needed.

Deep litter during cold weather helps; keep the poultry house warm and drier. However, to get the best results from use of deep litter, you must use plenty of ventilation.

Lights in the poultry house are timely now. You should provide 18 to 14 hours of light daily to laying hens.

The lights have an effect on the egg production organs of the hens. This will help increase during high priced winter period.

Remember to keep plenty of fresh water and fresh food available to birds at all times.

ORCHARD

Now is the time to get your nursery stock for planting a new orchard and for adding to your established orchard.

November and December are the best times to plant apples, peaches, plums, pears, pecans and grapes. Be sure to plant only the recommended varieties.

County Agents can supply you with copies of the recommended varieties of these fruits for your area. Check with your county agent. Some new varieties, especially peaches are available and he gives you the names of these too.

OATS AND WHEAT, ETC.
Do not graze your oats, wheat, ryegrass and other winter small grains or grasses too early. Let them get well established before turning in the stock.

Grazing too soon will be likely to do more damage than any good you will get from grazing too soon.

Keep cattle off such crops when the land is boggy. On boggy land, cattle trample and damage more grazing than they eat.

Modern Etiquette

Q. I have a very good friend who is constantly making glaring errors of grammar in her speech. Wouldn't it be all right for me to attempt to correct her?

A. I don't know how close your friend is, but in many cases this would quickly end a "beautiful friendship." Strictly speaking, it is very rude to correct another person's speech, unless specifically requested to do so.

Q. When a young woman is seated at a table in a public dining room and another woman stops at her table to chat for a minute, should the young woman rise?

A. Not unless the woman who stops is elderly.

Q. When folding a napkin at the dinner table, should it be done above or below the table?

A. Below the table

Q. If one receives a written invitation, does not specify how long one is to visit as a house guest, should the letter of acceptance state it?

A. Yes, specify just how long you intend to stay.

Q. Can you please tell me how to fold napkins into various fancy designs?

A. I could probably suggest a few "fancy" folds, but this practice is frowned upon by good society. It is far preferable to make a plain, square fold of the napkin.

Q. Is it the man's or woman's place to make the move to stop for conversation when they meet on the street?

A. Either one may do this.

Q. If there is to be no catering service engaged for a wedding reception, is it permissible to ask friends of the bride or bridegroom to help out?

A. This would depend upon how close these friends are and upon how much the bride or bridegroom would like to be asked, what think it an imposition.

Q. Should one be seated on the left or right of the hostess?

A. Certainly not good for a toothpick in the mouth, but not have any table.

Q. Is it all right to use the stationery for correspondence?

A. While men usually use sheet variety.

Q. Is it all right to clear the table when the hostess is clearing the table?

A. No; the hostess clearing the table no more than the hand at a time.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Down East, the woods are still aglow
With Autumn's blaze, though early snow
Has frosted every field and hedge
And new ice rims the river's edge.
But homes and hearts are warm and gay
As families gather close to pray
And watch the fragrant incense rise
From roasting turkey and mince pies!

Far to the South, the day is fair
And lazy blows the scented air.
The cotton's-baled, cane-cutting's done—
Now comes the time for rest and fun.
With joy and pride the feast is spread
And reverently bows each head.
From full and grateful hearts they raise
Their thankful prayers and hymns of praise.

Through our America this day
Is kept in many a different way,
Yet are we joined in thankfulness
That still these things our country bless:
The right to live, and work and earn;
To walk abroad, to think, and learn,
And, most important of all these—
To praise and worship as we please!

COASTING

By ANNE ORLEANS

When Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Lolliger and their daughter entertain members of their family there, it is quite a gathering. Last week 25 guests, mostly from New Orleans, came over to the South Beach home of the Lolligers for a delicious buffet lunch. They could not decide which was the nicest—the exchange of family news or the delicious dishes served by the Lolligers.

Don Chamberlain out on a business trip that covered Mobile, Talladega, Ala., Rome, Ga., Johnson City, Tenn., and many other points, spent last Sunday with Don, Jr., at his school in Arden, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hayward have just returned from a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Carl W. Renken at her home in New Orleans. Their son, Douglas, also was a guest of the Renkens.

Cynthia and Billy Richardson enjoyed the visit last week-end of Billy, Jr., and Jean and little Philip. News from Elaine and Ronald Knowles in England says how much they are enjoying their English home. They are particularly pleased with the very good schools the children are attending.

King Soerola of the English Department of Loyola University was on the WWL radio program, Faculty Panel, in a very interesting discussion of modern theatrical plays.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard King, who plan to spend Thanksgiving with their children in New Orleans, were very busy this past weekend in their lovely garden. They are putting in new camellias and new varieties of hydrangeas for next spring. Their pink and white sasanquas are all in bloom and so effective because there are so many.

On last Saturday's pretty afternoon Dorothy Mayfield was out horseback riding on Fella. Little George, about two, was riding with her and Fella's gait was so smooth that George was about to go to sleep.

Marie Louise and Drewry Blair, now living in New Orleans were guests this past week-end of Mable and Turk Carter. Their many friends were delighted to see them and enjoyed the buffet supper at which the Carters entertained their guests.

Mrs. Letta McCain of Baton

Rouge, who has been visiting Mrs. Archie Bruff, has purchased the former Carrigan home on Sears Avenue in Waveland. She is selling her home in Baton Rouge and will now become a resident of the coast. Her daughter and son and their families are looking forward to week-end and summertime visits and making plans to go fishing. Mrs. McCain's big consideration in buying the house-lots of room for extra cots.

Mrs. George Robert of Baton Rouge and Miss Alice Robert of New Orleans spent last week-end with Dean and Mrs. James Robert. This week Mrs. Edwin Hacker and her son and daughter in law, Eddy and Peggy, drove over from Pensacola for a visit with the Roberts.

On one of her frequent visits to New Orleans, Betty Allgeyer brought her namesake, little Rebecca Louise Gilly, back to Waveland for a visit. Becky gave little Becky a very pretty dress for one of her dolls. She was so pleased that she said, "That is simply garbage." Plenty of time in her young life to learn how to say and spell gorgeous. As Becky, Senior, says, "It's the thought that counts."

Company for Rip and Basil Kennedy last week were Chris Steiner and Tommy Thompson from New Orleans. Mrs. Kennedy took them out for an all-day picnic on Bayou LaCrosse. They fished and crabbed and lost fishing poles. Betty had brought the barbecue grill so they had hamburgers and hot dogs. It was a grand day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fraering had a quiet week-end last week. No company at the pretty cottage on the beach. The Pyrocanthus trees in their yard are covered with the vivid red berries. Their 12 dozen rose bushes are still blooming. The favorite topic of conversation in the family is Miss Elizabeth Lee Fraering, the latest grandchild, now two months old, cute, chubby and pretty.

The Fraerings have just completed the remodeling of their guest cottage. It now has a big living room, dining room, three bedrooms, two baths, kitchen, and a porch as big as a whole house. Now they can take care of all their children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Samuel are very proud of their lovely pink sasanquas that are blooming at this time. The foliage in their yard is also most effective at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Doyle spent a busy week-end. That is one reason why their garden is always so neat and pretty.

Visiting Col. and Mrs. M. B. DePass last week were Mrs. DePass brother and sister in law, Admiral and Mrs. Flood Beyer of New Orleans.

Ed and Louise Lasker and Anna Marie and Magdalena Fischer all working hard in the garden of the Lasker cottage over the week-end. The red geraniums all in bloom and so pretty against the white cottage with the blue trim. The garden slopes down to what could have been the bed of a small stream at one time and it is quite a surprise to see several lovely cypress trees growing there.

Opera enthusiast Mrs. Hamilton Guenard went to New Orleans recently for the evening performance of Tosca. Mrs. Guenard is also a member of LePetit Theatre du Vieux Carre and never misses a performance.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hava also went in for the Tosca performance. They praise was enthusiastic and they say that this is the best interpretation of Tosca they ever heard in New Orleans. They particularly enjoyed the singing of Bartone Robert Weede.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lehlertner drove over to Lafayette, La.

by way of the Baton Rouge-Louisiana highway for a short but very pleasant visit.

Mildred Devlin, Beale, Gayley and Tom Devlin at Uncle Tom's cabin. They report that John Devlin was in Houston last week and in a sporting good show window they saw a three-inch shark hook with three turkey tail feathers and this sign: "Lure for Texas trout." Also, at Tod's Steak House in New Orleans is a sign: "Texas spoken here."

Among those seen at Evelyn's birthday party Sunday night at the Reed Hotel were Janet Breland, Milenda Smith, Kent Sellar, Marguerite Randolph, Donald Cole, Buck Parker, Billy Clapp, Noleen Ladner, Billy Breland, Jeanette Mond, Shella Heilmann, Eleanor Bufkin, Myrna Carver, Hugo Favre, Dolf Tillman, Kenny Artigues, Barry Bonchamps, Pat Mooney, Julie Blanchard and oodles of others.

Spirits were high even though Bay Hay lost to Lucedale, 24-6 last week. The queen and her court were very attractive in their suits and pretty corsages. Their escorts were very handsome despite the dirty uniforms.

Following the game the Bay High Students, Alumni and the teachers proceeded to the B. H. S. gym for the Homecoming dance.

Music was furnished by Geo. Kramer's Dixieland Band. All had a very enjoyable evening.

Nov. 30 the Bay High students will see their basketball team play for the first time this year. Needless to say we expect to win. With the school spirit the students of B. H. S. have this year and their backing of the team they can't help but win.

The B. H. S. Student Council is planning to adopt a new constitution which was drawn up by the council of '53-'54.

Bay High News

National Education Week was observed last week at the New Elementary School. About 40 mothers visited the grades and saw the pupils at work. Parents are always welcome to come and visit, school officials said.

Plans are being made to landscape the grounds of the new elementary school. Do you have a shrub or an azalea to donate towards this project?

The Bay St. Louis High School Future Homemakers Club attended the fall sub-district conference, held at Perkinston, Friday, Nov. 19.

The main goal of F. H. A. is learning to live better today in order that "the home" making pupils' lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow.

The theme of the conference Friday is "Are you a Leader for Better Homes?"

Some main events anticipated by F. T. A.ers on the program Friday will be a message by the State President Miss Mary Ann Mohley; a skit "Congeniality and Friendliness in the Family" by Dixieland chapter.

All F. H. A.ers are expected to have a great day together as they share with others their club activities.

Like hunting for a NEEDLE IN A HAYSTACK

Somewhere, far below the surface of the earth, are trillions of cubic feet of natural gas and billions of barrels of oil. To find these subterranean deposits, producers risk many millions of dollars every year. It's the greatest treasure hunt the world has ever seen—and, like other treasure hunts, ends in dismal failure much of the time. In fact, an average of eight dry holes are drilled for every producing oil or gas well completed in exploratory areas.

The producers who assure you gas for the future are entitled to a profit in keeping with the tremendous risks involved. That's what they're in business for. Anything that threatens to take away their profit incentive will inevitably discourage the search for new supplies. This would not be in the public interest, for...

this is a search that must never end

STARS OF THE WEEK

BAY HIGH

It seems that Donald Cole has dominated this spot this season. But his playing leaves no other alternative.

He is a fine player and one who has been feared by Bay High opponents all year. Against Picayune Donald made the longest and the most beautiful run of the season.

He grabbed a Picayune kickoff in the third quarter on his own eight yard line and with terrific broken field running covered the distance of the field for a touchdown.

This run followed his first score of the game. Working from the single wing Donald received the snap from center and dashed around his left end for 20 yards.

daughter, Mary Beth, spent Saturday in New Orleans.

Mrs. A. W. McKay is spending several days in New Orleans with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Rome.

A couple of other times that similar play gained considerable yardage for Stanislaus.

On defense Schexnayder was very adept.

He boxed in most of wide end sweeps and crashed through to make a number of tackles when the Notre Dame backs attempted to run off tackle.

He was definitely the outstanding ball player on the field for Stanislaus. The team as a whole was off but James kept them in the game.

Throughout the year Schexnayder has proved himself a very capable end on both offense and defense.

He has received a couple of offers from colleges to continue his football career at their schools.

"Broom" as he is called by his teammates is a tall lean boy who does not give the impression of running fast because of the long stride he takes.

He is a veteran high school player and last year was a member of the Louisiana All-Star team in Class "B" Ball.

The sympathy of our community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Fusich, Jr., who lost first child, John David, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carro have started construction of their new home on the road to Ansley.

Roy Heinicke of Metairie, La., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garcia last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe LaFontaine and children have moved back to Gulfport for the winter to be near Mr. LaFontaine's work.

Friday Mrs. Lena Bourgeois and children of New Orleans were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green.

Mrs. Viola Garcia has returned to New Orleans after spending a week at her home here.

Irvin Green was very ill last week in New Orleans but is better now.

Last Tuesday Mr. George Montgomery and Edward Yarbrough motored to New Orleans on business.
